What is Panty by Post?

Panty by Post is an online subscription service based in Vancouver, BC to send a pretty panty in the mail monthly. We bring back the nostalgia of receiving a wonderful surprise in the mail!

What are the Company Origins?

The founder, Natalie Grunberg, has had a lifetime appreciation of all things French. Natalie spends the best part of her summers in France, and lived in Quebec for two years. She has watched and admired French women of all shapes and sizes, how confident and well put together they are, and the care they take in selecting and wearing their pretty lingerie. The Panty by Post concept took shape to provide women worldwide with French panties of superior quality and comfort, an excellent price point and a fast and easy online order process. Panty by Post adds the element of a wonderful surprise every time a panty is delivered by the local postman in a beautiful package; a delightful experience that people want to have over and over again, whether they order for themselves, or as a gift.

State-of-the-Art Ordering—Old-Fashioned Delivery

Placing a PantybyPost.com online order is easy and is as much fun as receiving the panties in the mail! Enticing styles (hipster, thong, bikini, vintage) and order options are presented within the Signature Line, such as: Double Dare, Ménage à Trois, Sultry Six and The Commitment Package (receive 12 panties per year). A variety of thoughtful packages can be ordered for the bride, curvaceous gals and men too. Orders can also be placed via the toll-free line 7AM-10PM (PST) and we ship worldwide.

Exclusive Suppliers

Panty by Post has an exclusive wholesale arrangement with Blush, an established family-owned and operated business based in Montreal, Quebec. Blush products are sold worldwide to carefully selected boutiques and Panty by Post offers direct access to this hard-to-find, appealing brand at prices that match those of mass-produced lower-end retail products. Other suppliers include Change, a Scandinavia company, for plus size goddesses and JM for the PBP men's bamboo Briefs in a Box package.

Pricing—Service—Quality

Our panties rival retail stores in price ($16 CAD per panty with a Commitment package to $25 CAD for a one time Something Blue bridal lingerie order), plus every panty includes pretty packaging, a note and delivery by post. This unrivaled service, and the quality and durability of our brands is what drives repeat customers and referrals. We have tested Blush panties for durability over many laundry washes, sporting activities and the dryer.
